

Working with Grief

Salvos Training offers three different courses in working with the grieving

Grief and Loss in Adults

The death of a loved one whether anticipated or not is one of the most stressful experiences that an individual will encounter during their lifetime. While grief is universal, the way in which the loss is experienced and expressed is unique. The workshop will up skill you in current theory and practice and provide ways to work with adults experiencing grief.

- Grief Defined
- Factors Influencing Mourning
- Attachment Theory
- Grief Theory
- Dual Process Model of Coping With Bereavement
- Uncomplicated - 'Normal' Grief
- Complicated Grief
- Trauma and Grief
- Needs of the Bereaved
- Supporting the Recently Bereaved
- Self-Care for Professionals

Grief and Loss in Students

As for adults, the time it takes to adjust to their loss and heal is unique to each child or young person. This workshop will give you the special skills required to support student through times of grief and understand the process of grieving.

- The influence of age in understanding death
- The language of Grief in Student
- Needs of Grieving Students
- Supporting Grieving Students
- Grief in the Class room
- The optimal Learning Environment
- Healing power of Play
- Factors Influencing Bereavement
- Trauma and grief
- The Place for Professional Assistance

Supporting Families in the Death of a Child

The death of a child, regardless of age, is the most excruciating of all losses and results in devastating and ever-present grief. There is perhaps no greater pain than that experienced by bereaved parents.

- The grief of Bereaved Parents
- Length of Grieving Process
- Responses Experienced
- The couples relationship
- Death of a child is the same yet different
- Parenting after the death of a child
- Bereaved Siblings
- Impact on the Family
- Spirituality and a Search for Meaning
- Rebuilding after the Death of a Child

